IMPORTANT NOTICE

Attached to the back of the Owner's Manual and on your Key tag is a 5 digit emergency override code number. This is the "identity document" of your immobiliser. DO NOT LOSE IT - at the very least make sure you record the number as it can be used to disarm the immobiliser in the event of a malfunction. This number is also required when ordering additional Transponders.

Arming the immobiliser

Protection to your vehicle is automatic.

Switch the ignition off.

After 30 seconds the immobiliser arms.

To indicate that the immobiliser is armed the red light (LED) flashes which also acts as a deterrent to thieves.

Disarming the Immobiliser

No action is required on the part of the driver other than putting your key into the ignition.

The immobiliser will check and verify the transponder in the plastic housing on your key ring. The red light will extinguish as the immobiliser disarms and you car can be started.
